Definition of Homelessness Prevention

- Homeless Prevention (HP) programs provide housing stabilization services and short/medium-term rental assistance, as necessary, to prevent entry into literal homelessness, including to an emergency shelter or an unsheltered location.

Definition of Homelessness Prevention

Homelessness Prevention must consist of these core components

1. Financial assistance
2. Case management/Supportive services
3. Prioritization

Eviction Prevention is not HP as it does not target those closest to literal homelessness
Targeting Homeless Prevention

Set rehousing and prevention goals for populations in high-risk settings

- Unsheltered populations
- Shelters with congregate sleeping areas
- People exiting non-congregate shelters
- Those at risk of losing their housing and entering unsheltered/congregate shelter settings

Types of Prevention

Primary Prevention
- Universal Strategies
- Selected Group Strategies
- Indicated Group Strategies

Secondary Prevention (Diversion)

Tertiary Intervention

Primary Prevention

Primary Prevention strategies aim to reduce individual and structural risk factors that contribute to homelessness and increase protective factors that shield against homelessness.

- Universal Strategies
- Selected Group Strategies
- Indicated Group Strategies

Target population: groups or populations with a high risk of homelessness as members of a protected class

Goal: Keep marginalized populations housed, targeting assistance to those who face significant structural barriers. These methods will reduce racial disparities.

Secondary and Tertiary Prevention

- Secondary Prevention, Diversion
  - Goal. Provides a safe alternative for people who are seeking shelter or are moving to an unsheltered location.
  - Target population. Households at the “front door” of the homeless response system.

- Tertiary Prevention
  - Goal. End chronic homelessness.
  - Example. Housing First because it provides no-barrier housing and the wrap-around supports needed to keep people stably housed.

Homelessness Prevention Network (HPN) Model

The HPN connects families at imminent risk of literal homelessness within 14 days with community partners and resources to stabilize families and avoid literal homelessness. HPN partners can be Access Points or HPN Service Providers (also serving as Access Points).

HPN partners identify high risk families using a standardized screening protocol and immediately offer such families housing-focused problem-solving assistance. HPN Service Providers prioritize access to housing stabilization resources, such as financial assistance or food pantry resources, for high risk families they identify or who are referred to them from another Access Point.

Access HPN access points and service providers collaborate based on a shared MOU among HPN partners to facilitate referrals and prioritize access to assistance.
