What Is a Scarcity Model?

Scarcity, also known as paucity, is an economics term used to refer to a gap between availability of limited resources and the theoretical needs of people for such resources. As a result, entities are forced to decide how best to allocate a scarce resource in an efficient manner so that most of the needs and wants can be met.

How Have Things Changed?

• We have a unique opportunity to retool our system to assist more individuals and families than every before
• We have many waivers that allow flexibility to run programs with less administration and burden
• We have funding to build capacity, including increasing staff, hiring consultants, purchasing training and TA
• We don’t need to compete to secure funding

What is the potential over the next 12 months?
A Housing Surge as RRH Strategy

Rehousing Surge Objectives

We house more people than ever before

We house people more quickly than ever before

We have maximum impact

RRH Core Components

Housing Identification Assistance

Financial Assistance

Case Management & Services

Housing Identification Assistance

The Right Culture

Dedicated Housing Navigation

Landlord Engagement/Unit Acquisition

Inventory/Slot Management

Communications/ Media Support

Move-in Kits/Furniture
The Right Culture

1. EVERYONE MUST OPERATE WITH URGENCY

2. CLIENTS WILL GET HOUSED - CLIENTS AND STAFF HAVE TO BELIEVE IT

3. WE WILL WIN - OPERATING WITHOUT MONEY IN HAND, REASONABLE RISK TAKING

4. "YES" CULTURE

Dedicated Housing Navigation

- Housing Navigation that is assigned or intentionally matched
- Small case loads that are expected to turn over quickly (14-30 day referral to move-in targets)
- Clearly defined responsibilities and timeline of the Housing Navigator role
  - Document collection
  - Unit matching
  - Unit application
  - Lease signing
  - Communication with LL
  - Transportation to unit for move-in
  - Furniture/move-in kit requests
  - Timeline – Housing Navigation Match=Enrollment, Keys in Hand=Exit

Finding Landlords and Units in the Community

Homeless services agencies have traditionally not done a good job at locating and working with private landlords.

- Not a natural skill set for many working in this sector
- Reluctance to engage in the community
- Willingness to let the client to do the leg work
- History of reluctance within the private rental sector
- Belief that there are better alternatives
- Mixed quality units

Landlord Engagement and Unit Acquisition

- Put together a LL Engagement/Unit Acquisition team
- Identify the number of units will need in what period of time
- Given local conditions identify how you will penetrate the market to get at that number of units needed
  - Hold fees
  - Holding and negotiating in bulk
  - Pockets of vacancy
  - Solve problems for the market
- Make decisions about unit availability & staffing capacity and the impacts this has on client choice early on
- You must think beyond your typical limitations during times of disaster, more is possible
Poll: What is Your Greatest Challenge to Recruiting Landlords?

- There aren’t enough landlords in my community
- Good properties are priced too high
- I don’t have enough time to dedicate to finding landlords
- Other: Put in chatbox

Furniture/Move-in Kits

- Put together a dedicated team to work on this – so time consuming!
- Identify the total # of kits needed as quickly as possible
- Try to get as close to a standard package as possible for a 1-bed, 2-bed...
- Identify storage and delivery processes
- Kits should include:
  - Basic furniture
  - Basic household supplies
  - First month of basic cleaning supplies
  - One week of basic groceries

Financial Assistance

Project out your rental and utility costs, assuming that at least some of your residents will need the maximum amount of time for 2 years

Rental Assistance

Calculate the maximum number of units your agency can pay for and work with your Entitlement around realistic payment timeframes
Other Financial Assistance

- Set up: Set up a risk mitigation fund that can be drawn on in cases of excessive damage to the unit, lost rent, or legal fees that exceed the amount of the security deposit.

- Set aside: Set aside funds for one-time landlord bonus/incentive payments for participating in the surge.

- Use: Use flexible funds to pay a holding deposit to landlords who agree to keep a vacant unit off the market until the surge.

Landlord Incentives

- Total of incentives paid to landlords related to a particular household are limited to 3 times the monthly rent and may include:
  - Signing bonuses up to 3 times monthly rent
  - Security deposits up to 3 times monthly rent
  - Paying cost of repairs damages for correctly security deposit - incurred while rental aid is in effect
  - Paying cost of extra cleaning or maintenance of the unit or appliances

What Other Financial Resources Are Available?

- Housing Choice Vouchers / Emergency Housing Vouchers (HCV) including EHV are a key source of long-term rental assistance
- Existing CoC program resources, including Permanent Supportive Housing, CoC Rapid Re-housing and Transitional Housing
- Private funding (fill in the gaps...)
- Other Mainstream Agency Resources e.g. HUD VASH, SSVF, SOAR

A Word From Our Sponsor....

Changing Your ESG-CV Approach

Much has changed since last year when communities began their COVID response.

Take the opportunity to reevaluate your strategy for using ESG-CV funds to address the severest housing needs.

Use this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to focus your ESG-CV resources on housing the most vulnerable people in your community – those experiencing literal homelessness.

If you have implemented non-congregate shelter during the pandemic, this is an opportunity to permanently house those individuals and ensure that no one returns to shelter or unsheltered homelessness.
A Word From Our Sponsor….

Changing Your ESG-CV Approach

- Consider reprogramming Homelessness Prevention funds to Rapid Re-housing. Prioritize Treasury Emergency Rental Assistance Program (ERAP) funds for eviction prevention.
- Consider using ESG funding to provide supportive services to support households receiving an Emergency Housing Voucher (EHV).
- Strategically use ESG for landlord incentives and landlord engagement activities to broaden access to available rental units.
- Consider using ESG funds to provide vaccine incentives to people experiencing homelessness, which could make the difference between someone choosing to be vaccinated or not.

Staffing and Case Management

On-site vs. Remote Caseloads

Telehealth and Remote Case Management

- Provide cell phones and wireless service plans for program participants to facilitate remote supportive services
- Ask how they like to communicate
- Consider the frequency of calls
- Stick to a schedule
- Be trauma-informed
- Stay present

Key Things to Think About

EDUCATE AND EMPHASIZE - Just like when doing home visits, a phone call can be an important time to help educate them about recent developments about COVID-19

PROVIDING ASSURANCES - Your participant may not bring up these feelings and may not want to talk about them. It’s fine to indicate if the person sounds stressed or angry or “down” and see where the conversations go

STAY PRESENT - Even if you and your participant agree to only talk once a week, try to let them know you are thinking of them at other times as well. Send a quick text in the morning or evening to ask how they are doing. Share an uplifting quote or funny video you found.
Touch points

FINANCIAL CONCERNS
- Have they paid rent?
- Will they be able to continue to pay rent?

SERVICE COORDINATION
- Are they able to access their regular service providers like their doctors, mental health or substance use providers? Can you provide support and assistance with making those connections work better? Sharing information with those service providers is critical during this time of decreased contact.

ENDING THE CALL
- Make sure you have an agreed upon next call day and time. Ask one more time if there is anything they need or something else they want to talk about. Sometimes people are more willing to talk about their concerns after they’ve had a positive interaction with you on the call. Plan out the next meeting/phone call/visit while you still have them on the phone. Verify the best way to reach them for the meeting prior to ending the call.

SUPPORT and RECREATION
- Take this opportunity to explore what kinds of things your participant likes to do for fun, and who the natural supports in their lives are.
